Gallatin County

Located in southern Montana, Gallatin County is Montana's fifth most populous with 50,463 residents, according to the 1990 Census.

Bozeman, the county seat, is the state's sixth largest city with a population of 22,660. The city is located in the fertile Gallatin Valley and 90 miles northwest of Yellowstone National Park. Bozeman is home to Montana State University and the Museum of the Rockies. It's a major agricultural and recreation area surrounded by mountains and national forests. According to the Montana Almanac, by authors Andrea Merrill and Judy Jacobson, the county was established in 1865 and was one of the original nine counties established by the Territory of Montana.

According to the U.S. Bureau of the Census, median income for Gallatin County households in 1989 was $23,345. The county is 2,532.7 square miles in area; 2,506.9 square miles in land area and 25.8 in inland water area.

County residents experience the four distinct seasons. Average normal monthly temperatures, for example in Bozeman, range from an average high of 32.7 degrees above in January to 81.1 above in August. The Montana Almanac shows the annual average precipitation in Bozeman in 1994 was 17.77 inches and the length of growing season 155 days.

PLEASE NOTE: Because of time and budget constraints, we are only able to update our county flyers periodically. Individual tables are updated on a more frequent basis. You can call us if you'd like the most current information for a particular county. The Annual Averages for County Employment By Industry are updated annually, usually in June. The Top Employer are updated annually. Per Capita Income statewide is usually released late spring and county data around August each year. Population data for Montana is usually released in March and county data may be released at a different time. The Annual Average Labor Force information is benchmarked annually and numbers available before March. The other tables contain Census information and will be updated every 10 years. You can also look for more current information on our website listed on the front of this publication.
